RATIFY LEAGUE OR ENLARGE NAVY, SECRETARY WARNS

Defeat of Covenant Means More Dreadnoughts, Mr. Daniels Tells Dinners.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels was warmly applauded when, speaking last night at a dinner in the Hotel Commodore held by the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, he hailed the League of Nations as "the covenant meaning peace and protection to weak nations."

"The navy of the future—what is it to be?" asked Mr. Daniels. "We have come to the crossroads. We must either in America live in a splendid isolation or we must make a compact with free nations to live for the common good of all the world."

"If this covenant shall be ratified and America takes its rightful place as leader of humanity, we may be able to quit building dreadnoughts, to retrench, and with the Allied nations to continue only such a navy as may be needed to police the world in the days of transition."

"If we shall declare for a splendid isolation," he continued, "there is but one course for us to pursue. We must build and build and build, and we must pay and pay and pay, because if we elect to stand aloof, while the other great nations of the world seek co-operation, we must have a navy strong enough to defend us from all foes. We shall build and you will pay."

"A great President of the United States used these words in an address: 'Isolation is no longer possible or desirable. God and man have linked nations together. No nation can long be indifferent to any other.' They were uttered eighteen years ago in Buffalo by President William McKinley, the last speech that great man ever made. 'We hear some people who wish America to be parochial and to be shut up between the seas, declaring I am a hundred per cent. American. I too am a hundred per cent. American and then some. I would be ashamed of myself to belong to any nation that could shut its ears to the tales about Armenia which this distinguished gentleman (Walter G. Smith) has told us of.' Other speakers who pleaded for America to save Armenia were Mr. Smith, former President of the American Bar Association; Abram I. Elkus, Alexander I. Hemphill, Gov. Runyon of New Jersey and Dr. James L. Barton, who presided.

WANTS NEW LEGISLATION WHEN ROADS ARE RETURNED

Hines Sees Handicap to Business Next Year Unless Laws Are Changed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—Unless legislation looking to the return of the railroads to private ownership takes definite shape during December the country will be disastrously handicapped next year in having its business moved, according to Walker D.

BEATING A SALES RECORD IN RUGS & LINOLEUMS

The Choice Pickings of Our Tremendous Stock Offered at Radical Reductions

This week one year ago was the record sales week in the history of our store. It is a hard record to beat, so throughout the past week our salesmen have been devoting their evenings to stock inventory to comb out specials of unusual attractiveness so as to make the offerings for this week equally as inviting in values as the extraordinary offerings of a year ago. We have given our men the right of way, they have shaved prices mightily close to help beat the record.

That pure "health" odor What it means to your skin

"Not a perfume," you say at once, "nor is it the odor of a medicine, but so clean, so wholesome!" That pure, hygienic odor is found in no other soap

INSTEAD of waiting until your skin needs attention, until it has lost its freshness and health, protect it every day—keep it glowing with health!

The instant you get a whiff of Lifebuoy, you realize why it means health to your skin—why it not only cleanses, but benefits and improves the skin.

Your skin needs more than cleansing every day. With its millions of tiny pores which are constantly collecting dust and dirt from the air, it must be protected against these impurities.

It is just as important to keep these millions of pores clean and open as it is to breathe.

Let the rich antiseptic lather of Lifebuoy get right down into the pores. It leaves your skin more than clean—keeps it glowing with health!

Watch your skin improve

The antiseptic cleansing which Lifebuoy gives is just the protection that your skin needs day after day. After using it regularly, you actually see the value of its antiseptic qualities—you see your skin improving, looking fresher, clearer, healthier! Freed from all impurities, your skin has every chance to improve—it gradually begins to take on that healthy "outdoor" look so many Lifebuoy users have.

Get Lifebuoy at any grocery, drug or department store. Use it regularly for face, hands, bath. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.
